"The real magic of chemistry begins when fresh minds
come together."

The newly joined student eagerly waits for their most remarkable event of the college “FRESHER’S DAY”. The purpose of fresher’s day is to welcome new students in a friendly atmosphere and encourage their creative impulses to boost their confidence. It is the day where seniors and juniors finally bond and unite to celebrate being part of the college.

The PG and Research Department of Chemistry, K.M.G. College of Arts and Science (Autonomous), Gudiyatham, arranged “Fresher’s Day” for the academic year 2025-2026 on 1st August 2025(Friday). This day marked a momentous day for the new UG and PG students, this event, orchestrated by the dynamic “Chemical Association”, was a jubilant occasion that brought together students to celebrate the commencement of their college journey.

The ceremonial lamp, Kuthuvilakku, was lit by Dr. C. Dhandapani, Principal, Dr. J. Jayakumar, Students Coordinator and Head Department of Thamizh, Dr. D. Manikandan, Dean Academics and Head PG and Research Department of Microbiology, Dr. S. Praveen Kumar, Head PG and Research Department of Chemistry and Newly joined students, faculty members, and senior students. This traditional practice symbolizes the dispelling of darkness and the ushering in of knowledge, wisdom, and enlightenment. The lighting of the lamp marked an auspicious beginning to the event.

Ms. B. Archana, of II M.Sc. Chemistry, warmly welcomed the dignitaries, faculty members, and the fresher’s. She shared her experiences in the department and encouraged the juniors to embrace academic life with positivity, curiosity, and commitment.

Dr. S. Praveen Kumar, Head of the P.G. & Research Department of Chemistry, delivered a detailed felicitation address. He outlined the department’s academic achievements, research contributions, and the various opportunities available to students. He urged the freshers to actively participate in seminars, workshops, and research initiatives to expand their horizons. His address was both motivating and informative, instilling confidence in the newcomers.

The Chief Guest of the day, Dr. C. Dhandapani, Principal of K.M.G. College of Arts and Science, delivered an inspiring and thought-provoking speech. He emphasized the importance of discipline, dedication, and determination in academic life. He spoke about the values upheld by the institution and encouraged students to balance academics with personal growth. His words left a lasting impact on the audience, especially the freshers.

The formal vote of thanks was delivered by Ms. D. Vanisri, a student of I M.Sc. Chemistry. She expressed sincere gratitude to the management, principal, vice principal, faculty members, organizing team, and all the students for making the event a memorable one. Her thoughtful words acknowledged the efforts of everyone who contributed to the success of the event.

Industrial Visit Report

The PG and Research Department of Chemistry, KMG College of Arts and Science, Gudiyatham, has been organized an Industrial visit to Central Leather Research Institute (CLRI), Chennai on 25.09.2025 for the III Year B.Sc. Chemistry Students and II Year M.Sc. Chemistry Students

Objective of the CLRI Visit

The vellore region have many leather industries, the major work caried around the Gudiyatham, based on the social and employability impacts we organized the industrial visit to provide practical exposures in leather processing, research-based chemical processes, modern laboratory techniques and applications of chemistry in the leather process and leather goods making.

Report

52 students from III B.Sc., Chemistry and II M.Sc., Chemistry with 4 faculty members were starts the visit at 5 am from KMG College of arts and Science (Autonomous) through the college-arranged transport and reached CLRI, Chennai, at 10:00 a.m.

Dr. A. Tamilselvi, Head, Centre for Human & Organizational Resources Development, CLRI welcomed the students and given an introductory session, to explain the role of CLRI in leather research, environmental management, polymer science, and chemical processing. Students were guided through various departments and laboratories, where they learned about:

- Leather processing techniques
- Chemical treatment and tanning methods
- Waste management and eco-friendly technologies
- Research applications of chemistry in industrial sectors

Visit of Leather processing Unit

In the Leather processing unit raw animal hides and skins convert into durable, flexible and usable leather through a series of chemical and mechanical treatments. In the Leather processing there are three main stages such as i) Pre-tanning Process, ii) Tanning Process and iii) Post-tanning (Finishing) Process was explained by the experts. Leather processing involves a combination of chemical, enzymatic and mechanical operations. Each step plays a vital role in producing high-quality leather suitable for industrial and commercial applications. Modern leather processing emphasizes eco-friendly chemicals and waste management, as practiced at CLRI.

Visit to Chemistry Research Laboratory

The students visited the Chemistry Research Laboratory in various field of research work doing by the scholars related with leather process and environmental techniques. Also, the students observed advanced analytical instruments like UV-Visible, FT-IR and etc., research methodologies and laboratory safety practices. The visit enhanced their understanding of practical applications of chemistry and motivated them towards research-oriented learning.

The visit helped students understand the practical relevance of theoretical concepts studied in their curriculum. The industrial visit was highly informative and beneficial. It enhanced students' knowledge of industrial chemistry, research methodologies, and career opportunities in chemical and research industries. The visit successfully bridged the gap between academic learning and industrial applications.

Conclusion

The industrial visit of CLRI is a one of the best learning experiences to our students. It enriched the academic knowledge of them and also given a motivation to get research and industrial careers in Chemistry.

Biochemistry Department Extension Activity

Name of the Activity : Pest and Disease Management in Mushroom Cultivation (23BCC002)

Academic Year : 2025-2026

Venue: Biochemistry – PG Lab

No. of Participants: 68

Date : 26.07.2025

Report:

PG and Research Department of Biochemistry conducted Add-on course on Pest and Disease Management in Mushroom Cultivation on 26.07.2025

All age groups, from young children to the elderly, can benefit from eating mushrooms, which are regarded as the most complete and safe diet. Good supplementary food item. It is a good source of protein with a low fat and carbohydrate content. The majority of people in India suffer from protein deficiency since their everyday diets do not provide enough proteinaceous supplements.

Provide high quality proteins. Low in calories, hence recommended for diet patients. Rich in amino acids like tryptophan & lysine. Major sources of Riboflavin, nicotinic acid, & pantothenic acid. Contain appreciable amount of thiamine, folic acid, ascorbic acid and minerals Mushroom cultivation is much useful in recycling of organic waste like paddy straw and other farm residues for better utilization as substrates for growing mushrooms. The spent waste of the substrates is used as very good manure enriched with the nutrients.

It is an excellent diet for people with hypertension because of its extremely low fat content. Because of its minimal carbohydrate content, it is also a very safe food for diabetics. Due to the mushroom's higher fibre content, it also treats constipation and gastric ulcers. Cultivation of oyster mushroom having ability to convert lignocelulosic waste material into high quality food material.

The students will benefit from this program by learning how to grow mushrooms, create small businesses, overcome socioeconomic obstacles, and improve their health.
